Course Description:
This course covers the strategic aspects of converting inputs into products and services. Topics include manufacturing policy, manufacturing process selection and design, capacity planning, production planning and scheduling, inventory management, and logistics planning.

Course Objectives:
This course has been designed to achieve the following objectives:
- To acquaint students with operations terminology and concepts.
- To teach students how to analyze and understand situations from an operations perspective.
- To familiarize students with different tools and techniques available to managers for directing the day-to-day operations of a business or department.
- To assist students in understanding how the different functional areas interact and how that interaction ultimately affects the performance of the business.

Course Outlines:
- Module 0: Course Overview
- Module 1: Operations strategy and managing change
- Module 2: Process selection and design
- Module 3: Supply chain design
• Module 4: Planning and controlling the supply chain

Instruction Materials:
• Other references will be delivered or announced in the class.

Course Arrangement and Requirement:
• Study textbook material before class is highly recommended. I will present textbook material to enhance your study in the class. However, most likely, I may not able to cover all the material in the textbook during course lecture. Your study prior to the class will be much helpful for participation. You are welcome to discuss with me in the class or off the class for all the lectured or non-lectured materials.
• Supplementary references will be delivered or announced in the class. You are expected to be prepared and participate in class discussion.
• You are expected to form a group of three students to work on a course project. Each group member should contribute equally to the project. Your final grade in this area will also be based on peer evaluations from your group members.

Grading Policy:
• Class attendance and participation 15%
• Quizzes 15%
• Midterm exam 20%
• Course project presentation 20%
• Course project report 30%

Other Policies:

1. Assignment and Grading:
   - All assignments must be typed not hand-written and must be submitted with a cover page typed on your name and student ID.
   - Assignment is due exactly at the prescribed time. No late assignment is accepted.
   - Any questions or complaints regarding the grading of an assignment or report must be raised within one week after the score or the graded assignment is made available (not when you pick it up).
   - All assignments and reports should be your original work/concept.

2. Attendance:
   - You have to sign and collect your name tags when enter the classroom.
   - You must display your name tag in front of the desk for discussion purpose.
   - If you sign for other students or do not sign on the attendance sheet, you will be regarded as “being absent” no matter what evidence you provide to the lecturer afterwards.
   - If you come in class late or leave early, your attendance counts a half of the day.
   - There is no need for you to ask for apology when you are absent from class.

3. Penalty for cheating and plagiarism will be extremely severe. Use your best judgment. If you are not sure about certain activities, consult the instructor. Standard academic honesty procedure will be followed and active cheating and/or plagiarism automatically results FAIL in the final grade.

4. You are expected to come fully prepared to every class and responsible for everything discussed in class. Note your attendance and participation counts. You may receive a zero for absence or lack of participation.

5. No incomplete grade under nearly all situations unless one have sound reason and documented evidence. A student who received an incomplete must have completed or passed a significant portion of the course.

6. Pay very careful attention to your e-mail correspondence. It reflects your communication skills. Avoid use non-standard English such as "how r u?" in your email message. In addition, I recommend you put the class number and a brief summary of your question in your e-mail subject. For example,

   Subject: RA52500  A question on final report.
7. I immediately discard anonymous e-mails.
8. The ringing, beeping, buzzing of cell phones and/or watches during class time is extremely rude and disruptive to your fellow students and to the class flow. Please turn all cell phones and watches off or into silent mode prior to the start of class.
9. For any disability accommodations needed for the course, please notify the instructor during the first two weeks of the semester.
